

Science Case:

This report on the Chandra Bootes Shallow Survey was requested by the organizers so that lessons learned from the experience of a fairly large survey could be shared with XXL. One example of mapping large scale structure will be presented.

In a separate contribution (Forman et al.) some of the science highlights will be presented to demonstrate the power of large surveys such as Bootes.